

Andy Mowery <pohoaandy@gmail.com>

agenda

Andy Mowery <pohoaandy@gmail.com>
To: Andy Mowery <pohoaandy@gmail.com>

Sat, Jan 7, 2023 at 11:17 AM

----- Forwarded message -----

From: Andy Mowery <pohoaandy@gmail.com>

Date: Thu, Jan 5, 2023 at 9:40 PM

Subject: Re: agenda

To: Clay Jones <joneswv66@gmail.com>

Cc: Poudre Overlook HOA at FtC <atftcpoudreoverlook@gmail.com>, John M Tunna <j.tunna@icloud.com>, Walker G Flanary <wgflanary@gmail.com>, Lora 4Pohoa <lb4pohoa@gmail.com>

Clay,

Yes. So, to be clear, you are fine with using Qanon material to guide our decisions?

Andy

On Thu, Jan 5, 2023 at 9:37 PM Clay Jones <joneswv66@gmail.com> wrote:

Do you assert that there is a single word of the movie that is not true?

On 1/5/2023 4:19 PM, Andy Mowery wrote:

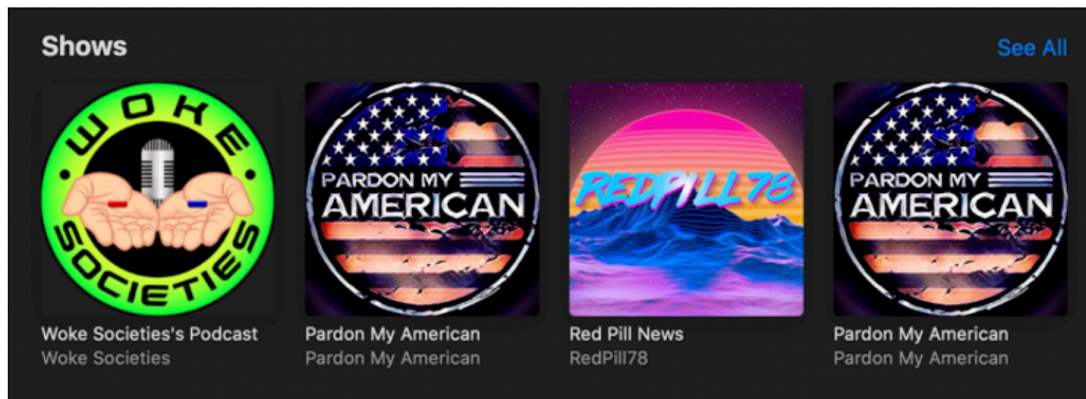

Clay,

You have responded with a link to a YouTube video from "Tore Says". Were you aware that your source is a Qanon adherent who has been banned from many social media platforms for spreading disinformation? Did you know some consider Qanon to be fueling domestic terrorism?

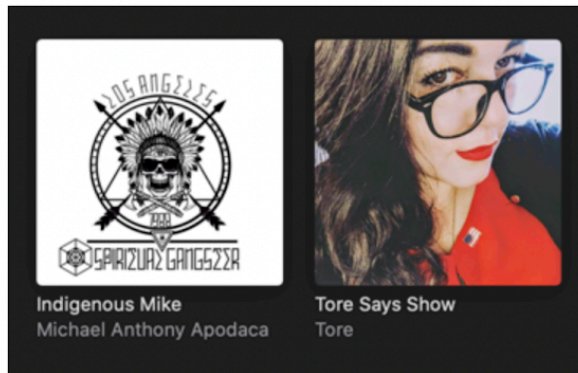

<https://toresaid.com/torecontent.cshtml>

And, those tracking domestic terrorism put this source in the category of those advocating violence and "mass arrests"

<https://www.mediamatters.org/qanon-conspiracy-theory/following-youtubes-ban-qanon-followers-are-jumping-these-other-major>

Indigenous Mike and Tore Says Show, another QAnon-affiliated program promoting mass arrests of the president's political opponents.

<https://www.mediamatters.org/media/3906346>

SEASON 2, EPISODE 272
Mon 12 Oct: Future Fix - Testing Timelines - Funding Questions - SCOTUS Moves - MidEast Update - Backup Plans - The Cascade

Tore Says Show

The hearings begin and the Dims whine. Who is behind COG funding? The MidEast comes home to American streets. The war winners are the ones smart enough not to fight. After the election, the real work starts. Building non attribution coms is a real art. There are a lot of deep state players that need jail. Throw yourself at doing good. It may look difficult, but have faith in humanity.

Do we really want to make our fiduciary duty decisions based upon the guidance from persons with these values? Does this align with the values of our community? Are you seeking mass arrests of anyone in this community if they support the "deep state" or vote for Democrats?

But, most importantly, is this indicative of the sources leading to your financial recommendations?

Thus far, your theories stated in June about the imminent collapse of currencies (requiring us to move $70k out of our bank account into one getting us half the interest) has not materialized 7 months later. And, for the prediction of fuel prices spiraling upward with inflation, those indicators have also gone in the opposite direction. Now you've pushed the date out a bit. It reminds me of those predicting the end of the world having to reset the dates when they pass.

Has it occurred to you that you may be succumbing to sources of information that are deliberate disinformation?

Sincerely,

Andy

On Thu, Jan 5, 2023 at 2:51 PM Clay Jones <joneswv66@gmail.com> wrote:

Andy,

Central Bank purchases are now and continuing at record levels in contrast to being net sellers during the earlier period you reference.

Also money laundering has been severely impacted by the Ukraine war which was the lifeblood for some European banks particularly Credit Suisse. So the US had to start providing cash to Ukraine to replace those funds of which the omnibus 1.7 trillion bill has a large part to replace such money laundering for narcotics, child trafficking, etc. to keep the European banks alive. The balance sheets meanly diddy even in bankruptcy but the flow is the life blood since that is where the skim comes. The CDO's for CS has blown out to 860 basis points recently like Lehmann Bros. did in 2007. That doesn't foretell immediacy but perhaps within a year if the US money printing to replace the Ukraine corruption can not keep up.

Hopefully the Russians can sucker the Poles into occupying western Ukraine after most of Ukraine falls. So the one thing that gold does is look forward to the probable and insure against it. The 70's saw the rise from 42.22 on Aug. 15, 1971 to about $850 in 1980. Such a multiple is entirely possible since the US is no longer the single global hegemony as it was in the 1970's able to toy with profit making opportunities for the MIC. Watching Tore Says "Enjoy the Show" will bring you up to speed. I was up to speed after the JFK assassination reading the assessments of the Warren Commission reports. Being threatened with being sent off to Vietnam for that wonderful cause watching dead GI's being drug off of the field on the nightly news is an effective way of focusing the mind.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FSX7ESKLdTM>

Clay

On 1/5/2023 10:33 AM, Andy Mowery wrote:

> Clay,

>

> The price of gold was over $2000 just 9 months ago. And, it remains on a plateau (where it is now) when looking at the Pandemic era (since 2020), which lifted it well above prices that were far below this when looking at the 10-year window.

>

> When I look at the 6-month CD rates, they appear to be in the range of 4.5 to 5.7%. What rates are you seeing?

>

> Why, again, are we keeping our money in an account only bearing 1.5% interest when we still have an open account where we could be getting over 3% in the interim?

>

> The difference in the price of gold you cited is 4.2% - but is simply looking at a dip in the market. I don't think "day trading" with our funds is appropriate, and we got significant push-back from owners at the meeting on 12/14 on the concept. Are you still advocating investing in gold?

>

> Sincerely,

>

> Andy

>

>> On Jan 5, 2023, at 9:27 AM, Clay Jones <joneswv66@gmail.com> wrote:

>>

>> Lora,

>>

>> Another item is the possible use of part of the reserves in a 6 month CD. The downside will be the risk that the reserve account interest increase will out strip the fixed CD amount. Note that a gold purchase the day after the last board meeting would be at a spot of $ 1775 versus yesterday's $1850/oz.

>>

>> Clay

>>

>>> On 1/4/2023 10:52 AM, Poudre Overlook HOA at FtC wrote:

>>> Hello - as we know, our board meeting is set for the 10th. We will start at 7 pm (per Andy's request) which gives us an hour (adjourn at 8 pm). Agenda items will be:

>>>

>>> website

>>> schedule for regular meetings

>>> dog incident (executive session?)

>>> petition for special meeting (executive session?)

>>>

>>> Please note, election of officers will be postponed pending outcome of the special meeting. While this may seem like a short agenda, remember we only have an hour and discussion of the last two items will likely take considerable time. Thus, adding to the agenda is unlikely, but, please send any short items you think might fit within this time space. I will send final agenda Sunday and post on website as well.

>>>

>>> Thank you. Lora

>>>

>>>